STAT

On behalf of the Intelligence Producers Council, which sponsored the 1988 Survey on Intelligence Community Production, I wish to thank you for your response to the questionnaire the Director of Central Intelligence sent to you in July. We are confident that the information you and others have provided will help the entire Intelligence Community become even more responsive to the needs of senior policymakers throughout the government.

In reviewing your responses to the survey, we noted that you would be willing to grant a short follow-up interview. The purpose of these interviews is to discuss and expand on responses in the survey relative to the effectiveness of the Community's intelligence support.

For this reason, you will receive, within the next few days, a telephone call from a member of our interviewing team asking for a 30-minute interview with you. We realize that you have a full calendar, but we hope you will have time to share a few additional insights with us.

Sincerely,

Chief, Intelligence
Producers Council Staff
